Hello!

My name is Ms. Juliano and I am so excited to be your student's teacher next year! I am moving from New York City to Philadelphia and can not wait for your children to join me on this next adventure. I have been teaching second and third graders for the last 8 years in East Harlem, New York. I have a passion for teaching students how to read, I love sharing their big "ah ha" moments with them.

If it is possible for you to provide your students with supplies, below is the list that would be extremely helpful to get us started for the year.

I look forward to meeting your students and working as a team next year in order for your students to have the most successful year yet!

Thank you,
Ms. Juliano
