

Congratulations!

You are the parent of a first grader here at James Logan Elementary!

You will be amazed at just how much your child will grow this year. Most likely, your child has had the seeds of reading and writing planted, and during first grade those seeds will grow and blossom, making your child an accomplished reader and writer! You will see changes in your child's thinking as he/she becomes familiar with abstract concepts and symbols.

The change will be dramatic -- just compare a tiny seed with a full-grown sunflower. That's the kind of growth you'll see this year!

Staying involved in your child's education is the key to a successful year. Engage your child in conversation about his/her day.

Another way to stay involved is to check your child's folder. It may be packed with school assignments, homework, projects, flyers, notices from the office, as well as notes from their teacher. As overwhelming as it may be, try to sort through them and read each one. They often contain important information and reminders.

Reminders:

First Day of School is Monday, August 31, 2020.

Attendance is extremely important! Students should arrive by 8:25 in the schoolyard and report to their first grade line. Our day ends at 3:09 students are expected to stay in the line until after the school creed is completed.

Uniforms are mandatory! The uniform consists of navy blue pants/shorts/skirt/dress, a yellow polo/button down shirt and a tie (cross ties for girls, neckties for boys)
